I want to integrate Spring Security, using the FormLoginSuccessHandler for all of them, so that all of them will use the same auth and the same user entries. How can I configure Spring Security to use the same FormLoginSuccessHandler for all of them? Thanks. A: To share authentication across multiple application you can use AbstractAuthenticationProcessingFilter. This filter has two methods : onCommit() and onAuthenticationSuccess().

Defining your AuthenticationFilter : public class AuthenticationFilter extends AbstractAuthenticationProcessingFilter { public AuthenticationFilter(AuthenticationManager authenticationManager) { super(authenticationManager); } @Override protected boolean onCommit(AuthenticationToken token) throws IllegalStateException, AuthenticationException {
    // Some custom logic return true; } @Override protected

Authentication authenticate(Authentication arg0) throws
AuthenticationException { // Some custom logic return arg0; } @Override protected void successfulAuthentication(HttpServletRequest req, HttpServletRequestResponse resp, Authentication arg0) throws IOException, ServletException { // some custom logic } } And register your custom filter in the web.xml 3e33713323
