A: After long research on internet I found a solution that worked for me, so this answer contains a schematic layout in case someone will come across the same problem. So basically the SAP2000 program installation can be done in two ways, this is what I did: 1). Double click on the SAP2000 folder on your desktop and open the folder, it will open the SAP2000 installer, press NEXT. 2). Click on the link and open the installation manual, read the section "Installing SAP2000". If you want to do a local installation on your PC, check the manual and follow the instructions. If you have downloaded or purchased the licensed version then you don't need to install an update. SAP2000 versions older than 15.2.1: In this case, download the level.txt file from the following link. The.zip file has the same name and has the standard file size. The installation method will be the same as the one mentioned above SAP2000 version 15.2.1 and newer. If you have SAP2000 version 15.2.1 or newer then you don't need to do any of the above steps. The installation manual has the instructions to install the upgrade. For a complete installation from scratch, go to the first option and continue the installation process. SAP2000 version 15.2.015.2.1 and newer. In this case, download the SAP2000 certificate files and the level.txt from the following link. The certificate files have the same name, so you don't have to rename the files, but make sure to use the matching version number for the certificate files and the level.txt file.
