No matter what Lenovo will always need Windows, not only the BIOS uses a certain version but also the device is usually provided with a device driver. So all that information is just a fact. You are right about the drivers. But it's not just about what Windows needs, it's also about what the PC needs. e.g. when you bought a GPU that's provided with a specific driver, that driver's installed automatically. And it's the responsibility of the manufacturer to provide a compatible BIOS or a well-specified driver. Effect of phenytoin on the development of tolerance to penicillin V in penicillin allergic mice. We demonstrated previously that repetitive exposure to penicillin V (PCV) produced a tolerance state in mice (MacLeod et al., Am. J. Physiol., 237:997, 1980). In this report, we investigated the effect of phenytoin (PHT) on the development of tolerance to PCV in penicillin allergic mice. PHT alone (300 mg/kg ip) did not affect the skin irritation caused by PCV in penicillin allergic mice, but it inhibited the skin irritation in mice pretreated with PCV. PHT decreased the skin irritation caused by PCV in mice. In addition, it inhibited the development of tolerance to PCV. At doses of 300 or 900 mg/kg ip of PHT, the tolerance was inhibited completely. We conclude that in the present study PHT inhibits the development of tolerance to PCV in penicillin allergic mice. Alinekwasi Alinekwasi is a town in northern Namibia, in Kunene Region. It is located on the bank of the Kunene River, approximately north of Ongwediva. It was founded on January 15, 1964 by F.G. Spring and its goal was to create an area with beef production, the "Beef Belt". Alinekwasi has a school, the Alinekwasi Secondary School. References Category:Populated places in the Kunene RegionSnow and ice rarely put a damper on Earth's oceans. But now there's new evidence that warm waters could be releasing an unusual amount of freshwater into the atmosphere. As riverine drainage systems warm, so the ice caps melt and more freshwater is released into the oceans, said Westley Davies, an oceanographer at Duke University. The latest study
