See all the warning areas here For more information, check out the flood watch and evacuation alert pages on Environment Canada's website. ORIGINAL STORY: The flood situation for Central Canada is dire. The concern is over the flood situation in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. There are widespread areas of low pressure pushing into the region. "Even though the winds are low today, the pressure gradient is still very high which is making it very poor for the forecast," said Paula Duhaime, senior manager of severe weather with Environment Canada. "We've been seeing this kind of pressure gradient over eastern Canada for a while now, but as we got a big system over western Canada, it's going to cause a big problem."
